

Love Your Animals?

Of course you do! You provide the best possible care for your animals, choosing professional services that keep them healthy and happy. Today, your animals need a strong advocate to secure your right to choose the best available well-being options in Illinois!

The Illinois Alliance for Animal Owners Rights is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving your right to choose alternative therapies and other non-veterinary services for the animals in your care.

In 2004 and again in 2010, legislation was introduced in Springfield that would have made it illegal for an animal owner to hire a practitioner of the natural healing arts (such as massage therapists, TTouch practitioners, Reiki practitioners, nutritionists, herbalists, magnetic therapy) without the approval of a veterinarian. The legislation was so sweeping that animal groomers, animal communicators, saddle fitters, and even animal trainers would have been affected.

But because of the vigilance of the IAAOR, the rights of animal owners to choose and the rights of trained practitioners to work have been restored. For now. Strong and well-funded groups present a constant threat by working behind the scenes to pass legislation taking away your right to choose. Take action! You can help! Stand up for the animals of Illinois!

Animals are counting on you to be their advocate!
